NEW YORK HOSPITAL WORK

Strain on the Attendants During the Hot Wave.

Nearly All the Metropolitan Institutions Overcrowded-Philanthropists Come Forward During the Emergency-The Morgae Facilities

NEW YORK, July 4.—The condition long strain under which the dectors and attendants are working; but never have would return in twenty minutes, went then to Waymart to see some shown their great usefulness in a time of emergency. Though the staffs of all continues with remarkable regularity ders and smoothness, considering the strain to which it has been subjected.

At the Presbyterian Hospital the work of caring for the many heat cases which have been taken in is going bravely forward. All the corridors of concentrated on the emergency work, chiefly heat eases.

The doctors and nurses work in short shifts, and get rest for a few minutes at intervals through the day. The ambulance service is said to be in pretty good shape. The hospital is using a number of extra horses, and, by sponging and showering the animals, when they come back from calls, the stable force has kept all the horses on their Carson's levee camp, in Mississippi, Tuorifeet. A number of cases have been transferred to the Mount Sinai and German Hospitals, the two latter institutions having volunteered to accept

At Flower Hospital there has been a congestion of heat cases, and the regubeen augmented by the hiring of an automobite cab, and by the use of the patrol wagon of the East Fifty-first Street statuon, offered by Captain Lantry. Yesterday morning, the nouse surgeon said that the hospital would be unable to take many more cases, as its unable to take many more cases, as its

Thomas D. Crimmins at once sent three horses and a man, who was given orders to stay and take care of the horses as long as they were needed by the hospital. Mr. Crimmins also went to the discovery of the man, who were saved, give the launch could reach them. Themas F. Ryan was another friend of the Institution, who came forward. She lives at Fifth Avenue and Twelfth Street, and has recntly purchased a house across the street from her home. She sent word that the new house had been renovated, and would be at the dispesal of the hospital as long as it was needed. The house will be used for heat cases, which have passed the danger point and for small accident cases.
